Colorimbus

Colorimbus is a kind of game based on the colors perception and the speed of reaction. It's a vocation to train attention on different stimulation. The game idea consists of balls catching on the bars that have the same color. If all the bars are completed the level is passed! Every new level the game became more exiting, the speed is raising and the balls are falling frequency. Train your attention and set the record.

How to play

- Flip every disc of the opponent of the opposite color which is vertical, horizontal or diagonal lines between you and empty cell.
- The available moves are shown with points.
- The game is over when the board is full with the disc.
- You win if the most discs on the board are on your color.
